DO STARS TELL?

Did the stars which twinkled on Jan. 7, 1859, when Emperor William was born, foretell his downfall?

In a horoscope published three years ago, drawn by Larimer, famous astrologer, his downfall was predicted for this year. A conjunction of Saturn and Mars in Taurus furnished the basis of the astral forecast.

Morgan's Men will hold their annual reunion at Olympian Springs September 1-3.

says that nothing resembling a great battle has been fought as yet, and warns the people against optimism.

Servians Win a Battle.

Reports from the Austrian-Servian line says the Servians have won a battle on the Drina, which military experts consider highly probable, as the Servians have a comparatively small army but one which has passed through two years of actual war and therefore has the advantage of veterans fighting against amateurs.

From the Russian boundary conflicting reports come, both sides claiming success.

English papers are warning the people that the war is only beginning and that they must be prepared for a long struggle which will test the resources and manhood of the nation to the utmost limit.

While appreciating all that the colonies have done, the population of Canada and Australia are expected to contribute much more in men and money to the empire than they have yet done.

French Minister Confirms It.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Paris states that Minister of the Interior Melzey, upon leaving a council of the ministers last night, said to the newspaper men: "All I can tell you is that the battle has begun. I know no more."

Washington, Aug. 22.—The time limit on Japan's ultimatum to Germany, demanding that the Chinese territory of Kiao-Chow held by Germany be unconditionally surrendered, and German cruisers now in far eastern waters be disarmed, expired at 10 o'clock tonight, eastern time, or noon Sunday, Tokyo time.

As that hour approached State Department diplomats officials here were watching for a possible reply from Germany to be transmitted to Tokyo through American channels, but none was made.

No notification that a reply had been transmitted through any other channel had been received at the German embassy here at that hour.

The opinion was general that Germany had determined to ignore Japan's note, leaving the initiative to Japan in whatever is to follow.

Stupendous War Levy Is Imposed.

London, Aug. 22.—A telegram to the Star from its Rotterdam correspondent says that Germany has imposed a war levy of 50,000,000 francs upon the city of Liege.

Belgians Won't Pay.

London, Aug. 22.—The Antwerp correspondent of the Chronicle says: "M. Hallet, treasurer of the city of Brussels, informs me that no possible coercive measures will influence him to give the Germans the $10,000,000 demanded from the city as a war tax."

Latest News

The seas are free of any German influence, according to the statement issued by the British Embassy. The German fleet is held helpless by the main British squadron and English cruisers are keeping all other waters open. Commerce is following all the regular routes of trade, the statement says.

A bitter trade war on German and Austrian goods has been begun by England, and a boycott of all products produced by these two countries is being urged. England formerly bought immense quantities of goods from Germany especially.

The clearance of the steamer Mazatlan from San Francisco with coal for the German cruiser Leipzig would be a violation of neutrality on the part of the United States, according to the claim of the British charge at Washington.

The cruiser Tennessee, with gold on board for the stranded Americans, is anchored just outside of Rotterdam, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam. Henry S. Breckinridge is said to have landed and gone to The Hague.

More than 1,500 American refugees reached New York Saturday on the steamer Baltic from Queenstown. Six thousand sacks of mail were on board. Many of the Americans came in the steerage in order to reach home.
